

jane doe

stories about waves

small talk with the devil / heart of darkness guitar: panos doe

piano: tasos doe
words vocals: moss doe

cello: elena doe

devil, devil do you know my name?
the one-eye tide and this bitter taste you have some class, you have your price but we are dots on the same dice devil, devil, are you feeling alone standing by the quiet of the telephone i heard your sob, i saw your fear and now i know that i'm not so weird devil, devil, all these tricky words are some kind of joke just to make some friends i'm just the wall, you're just the crash and we all are believers of this bloody dust devil, devil, raise your hand this beautiful chant will has an end you cross the line, you had your time but after all what you got was mine devil, devil, do you really care? how well you did it or play it fair the horror, the horror, was all we found spinning our heads round and round mine, oh mine was your human mask all the weepy questions you dare to ask the dark, the god, were all the same

devil, devil, do you know my name?

flesh police / flow my tears, the policeman said guitars: panos doe melotron: tasos doe

bass guitar: peter doe drums: stratos doe
words vocals: moss doe

don't take me home
don't take me home tonight spread your wings and fly fly away

don't take me home
let me in the rain
leave me alone
stay away

don't take me home
don't take me home tonight
i wish i could talk, tonight i wish i could fly, tonight

don't take me home

let me in the rain
leave me alone
stay away...

a man named freedom / le petit prince

guitar: panos doe
metallophone, piccolo, programming, vocals: tasos doe contrabass: chris doe march drums: stratos doe
words vocals: moss doe

trumpets, whistling: the other tasos doe i know your face, your heart, your fears but i can't wait to see your move so i'll take your hand we will rise and then all the comets will seem like trains i know you count, you add, you subtract thought your fingers were made for math but when look at the stars the light explodes in your arms and you become the boy you were once i feel alone, marooned, so small but i can see my writing on the wall it says "when you feel enslaved grab a bird from its tail and fly away, it's time to escape i saw the king, his throne and his crown he orders things but none was around the other said "look at me, i got the beauty on my skin" but all i saw was a man and his sins now the lights went out as i see and that's something i can really forgive in the dark there are no lines no borders, no crimes and that's place that i want to live in i got my youth, my feet and my dreams and i don't care if in this world i don't feet i've got invisible wings i was made from this thing that the loveless and fascists can't see